Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Primary School celebrates fourth NACE Challenge Award

The National Association for Able Children in Education (NACE) has named Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Primary School the 3rd school to be accredited for the fourth time with the NACE Challenge Award. The award is given in recognition of school-wide commitment to high-quality provision for more able learners, within the context of challenge for all.

NACE CEO Sue Riley said: “Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Primary School has worked hard to attain reaccreditation through the NACE Challenge Award. It has shown itself to be committed to developing an environment in which all learners are challenged and supported to be the best they can be.”

The award is based on the NACE Challenge Framework, which sets out criteria for high-quality provision for more able learners within a wider ethos of challenge for all. The framework is available as part of the NACE Challenge Development Programme – a suite of resources developed by NACE to help schools evaluate and improve their provision for more able learners.

NACE’s assessor wrote: “The inspirational leadership of the headteacher sets the tone with a ‘can-do’ attitude that is transferred to the staff, children and whole community. Staff work with high energy, a sense of moral purpose and a commitment to the pupils.

The school has high aspirations for all learners and celebrates talent. Pupils are safe, secure and well nurtured, meaning they can flourish in their own way. The school is mindful of the future role their pupils will play in the world, encouraging a global awareness alongside community connections.”

Improving provision for the more able remains a priority for many schools and has been highlighted by Ofsted and the DfE as a key focus. The experience and evidence gathered by Challenge Award-accredited schools also shows that effective strategies to improve provision for the more able are likely to have a positive impact on the achievement of a much wider group of learners.

To attain the Challenge Award, schools must complete a detailed self-evaluation using the NACE Challenge Framework, submit a portfolio of supporting evidence, and undertake assessment by a NACE associate. The assessment process includes examination of school data and key documents; lesson observations; and interviews with school leaders, learners, parents and governors.

CEO Sue Riley said, “The award is presented in recognition of whole-school commitment to and achievement in providing effective challenge and support for all – spanning school leadership, curriculum, teaching and learning, processes for identification and tracking, extracurricular opportunities, strong communication and partnerships, and ongoing evaluation.”

Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Primary School will now remain part of the international community of Challenge Award-accredited schools which have demonstrated a sustained and effective commitment to meeting the needs of more able learners, and an interest in sharing expertise for the wider benefit of the education community.
